EDITORIAL

A lot seems to have happened since the last Epistle, most sadly the loss of Alistair.

A number of EPOC members travelled to various events over the summer including the biannual Scottish 6 days and the White Rose weekend both of which offered good orienteering challenges.

The EPOC AGM was held on 20th September with some committee members resigning and new ones being appointed. Jean has now formally been elected as Chairman and is keen to keep the club moving forward.

It seems strange to not be heading off to the Compass Sport final in October having not qualified for the final for the first time since around 2009. Hopefully CLARO will enjoy the trek to Devon instead. Moving into 2018 our qualifying event will take place at Canklow (Rotherham) and the final is in the West Midlands so no doubt Rod Shaw will be making sure plenty of us enter and hopefully we will make the final again when it is not so far to travel.

Moving into the Autumn EPOC have events in November and December so don't forget to put these in your diaries and offer to help out if you can. If plenty of people help then more people are also able to have a run if they want to do so.

CHAIRMAN'S CHAT (which closely mirrors the Chairman's report at the AGM!)

The first thing I should mention is the sad and sudden loss of Alistair who worked so hard for the club over the years, turning his hand to all manner of organisation and administration. He has left a considerable gap. The committee are discussing having a suitable memorial event so if you have any ideas of a suitable event, even an extra event, please let a member of the committee know.

We have had 5 events since the last AGM, 3 XC and 2 Urban. They have been successful and enjoyed by the competitors apart from the odd one (not always the same odd one).

Apart from the areas Newmillerdam, Storthes Hall, Oakwell Hall and Ogden we do not have the selection of woodland that some other clubs enjoy as financial cut backs for woodland management have allowed, unacceptable to Orienteers, levels of over growth, or is it undergrowth.

We have lost 2 Moorland areas, Yateholme (a long time ago) and also Rishworth Moor because no amount of compliance suits Yorkshire Water. There is still hope for Marsden Moor which is worth a look in winter when the Bracken is reduced to neck height.

However, we do have a lot of mapped Urban areas and perhaps this is where our future major source of income and opportunity lies.

Next year we hope to put on a UK "B" Urban League and also fit in an extra urban event.

Phill Batts CLOK & BAOC has offered to organise some courses for us on Planning and Mapping and use of OCAD. As we have only just got this information and the scope is so wide the committee will have to think about the subjects he is offering. Shortly we will send out a general e-mail asking for members who are interested in any of the training courses to contact a member of the committee. Four members of the committee have already expressed an interest and as we have to pay for this training along with finding a venue and equipment, we will have to decide carefully which are going to be most popular. At the moment Planning is in the lead, which will make an easier future for an organiser and the Fixtures sec.

Now to the immediate future: We have three events in quick succession - Nov, Dec and January the first is Langfield, which is early November, and currently being organised. Final details will be clear soon at which stage we will be looking for helpers. Don't be shy.

Alistair Tinto (09.08.1966 – 19.08.2017)

It was with great sadness that EPOC members and the wider orienteering community learned of the untimely passing of Alistair Tinto in August. Alistair had held a central role within the club for many years and in fact had been very much instrumental in keeping the club as active as it remains today. Ian Couch pays tribute to a true gentleman who will be sorely missed by many.

Alistair began orienteering in 1980 at Limavady Grammar School in Co. Londonderry and came into the sport with a wealth of 'bushcraft' developed through his father's love of walking and the Scouts. As a member of the North West Orienteering Club (NWOC) and together with James Logue and Steve Linton, he was part of a very active group at the school, the legendary "Blue Bus" crew, who travelled far and wide attending events. He had BOF, JK and 'cunning running' stickers all over his bedroom window and school files!

He spent many Saturdays criss-crossing Northern Ireland to orienteer and became increasingly involved in helping, as well as competing, as he moved up through the school. Alistair would spend many other weekends throughout the year in the school minibus travelling much further afield to compete in larger events throughout Ireland and Britain. This meant winding roads the length and breadth of Ireland or ferry journeys and long, long drives to the JK and Scottish 6 days, arriving home at 2am on a Monday and then school six hours later.

Alistair was one of those orienteers who gave so much back to the sport and this was clear even at school. Always keen to learn new skills, he became involved in mapping areas such as Somerset Forest near Coleraine and, by the time he left to go to university, he had progressed to involvement in the organisation and planning of those same events he had grown up attending.

He studied pharmacy at the University of Bradford. As a postgraduate at the University of Nottingham, Alistair took over from Steve Birkinshaw as captain of the University orienteering club (1990-91). Not surprisingly, he pursued a career as a pharmacist and he progressed to become Chief Pharmacist with Bradford District Care NHS Foundation Trust.

Alistair was one bundle of orienteering enthusiasm. This fuelled his immense efforts and tireless work in organising, controlling, planning, mapping and committees over many years. In his role as chairman of EPOC from 2010, Alistair was a model of diplomacy. Conscientious to the extreme, he would be the first to volunteer to attend courses and to learn new skills. On top of all his other work as chairman, fixtures secretary and also running the EPOC results team, he would still take on even more tasks by filling other roles that 'nobody wanted'!

Regularly driving long distances after work to someone's house to attend an evening meeting or to collect/deliver equipment or to update and test software, he still managed to apply himself as if it was his first meeting of the day. This enormous contribution to both the sport and to EPOC were especially crucial in keeping a small club alive and, essentially, holding it together.

Alistair also served as the YHOA chair from 2010 to 2015. In 2016, with Mike Cope, he acted as Joint Coordinator of the JK in Yorkshire and, when there were problems, continually turned his own useful ideas into solutions.

Out in the forest, Alistair was a familiar figure running with his buff round his head. He was more than happy to help another competitor to relocate if they were lost and to ignore the fact he was losing precious time on his own run. Purists might argue that one shouldn't help others when orienteering but Alistair had a passion for the sport and a generous view of other participants, even if it meant compromising his own performance.

As a fan of night events, he helped with both organising events in and the running of the Yorkshire Night League. He was a regular at night events but a dislocated shoulder at a night event near Knaresborough several years ago upset all of his orienteering activity for a while.

Without fail, everyone comments on Alistair's positive view of people and 'things'. At one event, for example, when the vandalism of several controls, serial computer failures and competitors flooding in to the Finish seemed to put the whole results process and the event into meltdown, his calm and tactfulness during a crisis left a lasting impression. Once any problems had been resolved and the event was back on its feet, it was a relief to hear him finally express his more honest, private feelings about the few, but inevitable, competitors who had complained!

Alistair was diagnosed with a brain tumour in the autumn of 2016. He showed a bravery and dignity during his illness that were astonishing. Determined to be outdoors, he managed a few appearances at Saltaire, Storthes Hall, York and Bradford orienteering events, as well as struggling along on mid-week 'winklies' walks with fellow EPOC members but still uncomplaining.

In December 2016, Alistair and Zoe got married after 25 years together. In Alistair's words, he didn't want to rush into things!

He fulfilled a lifelong ambition when he travelled to the airfield at Biggin Hill in March and, apart from a special tour of the Heritage Hangar, Alistair flew in a Spitfire and took control of the aircraft. Eager to carry on with as many other activities as possible, Alistair travelled to Arras to visit the memorial of his great-uncle, Billy McFadzean, who was awarded the VC in 1917 and he attended a thumping England win at Headingley in the First One-Day international against South Africa, the World Superbike Championship at Donington Park, an amazingly noisy Blink-182 concert and an adventure evening with Ranulph Fiennes in Leeds.

He loved the challenge of orienteering and the post-event discussions. Alistair was one of those orienteers who makes the sport happen with a willingness, a quiet smile and a gentle manner that we shall miss. For example, way back, after a snowstorm had caused an EPOC event to be cancelled on Marsden Moor, Alistair volunteered to help collect controls. In arctic conditions, he tried and tried, in vain, to locate a particular boulder and struggled back without the control. He apologised to the planner, only to be told: "I didn't use that site in the end". Alistair just shrugged and smiled!

He was "one of the gentlemen of this world".

All offerings to the Epistle, including photo's, are gratefully received, especially the unsolicited ones. Reports on small events are just as welcome as those on big events. It really helps if articles, photo's, reports, notices and gossip can be emailed directly to me at

TREASURER'S STATEMENT

This has been a year when event activity has been reduced with the club only holding 4 main events. In general club income has balanced normal expenditure. However during the year the club found that it needed to invest heavily in new IT equipment and also spent a significant amount on repairs to SI boxes.

Events could have been better supported and the club certainly felt the lack of a major non-urban event during the spring or summer. We were however fortunate that Richard Payne produced two new good urban maps – Golcar and Dewsbury at minimal cost. Regrettably, we suffered some vandalism at the Dewsbury event with the loss of 4 SI boxes. These have not yet been replaced and no allowance has been made in the accounts.

Given that the club has made another deficit, I make no apology over repeating the comments that I made last year that given fixed or rising costs in terms of items such as map printing, BOF levy equipment replacement and other items such as venue or toilet hire, I seriously believe that the club must look to increasing event income by increasing entry fees and / or improving publicity to increase entry numbers.

Again, I would however like to congratulate all organisers for their real efforts to minimise costs at events.

NOT THE WHITE ROSE!

Emma Harrison

For around the last 10 years it has become a habit that the Harrison's go to the White Rose weekend with Megan and I always doing the night event, all of us doing the main event and sprint then any combination of us doing the relay. But not this year!

Earlier in the year we were invited to a 50th birthday party in Stockholm on Friday 25th August and it didn't take too much to decide to accept the invite and spend the bank holiday weekend in Sweden, but it was going to be strange not orienteering. Or so we thought. Plans for the weekend began to evolve and this also included orienteering options in the Stockholm or Uppsala areas. None of us had ever orienteered in Sweden and I was the only one of us who had orienteered outside of the UK. We opted for the Waxholm events near to Stockholm as the details offered the chance of more line features and less intricate contours, making it a bit easier for our first outing – or maybe not!

On Saturday it was a middle distance event. I faired OK making maybe 4 minutes of mistakes and finishing in the top half of the D45 field and only 8 seconds behind my cousin who has lived and orienteered in Sweden for 17 years so I was pretty pleased with that. David, Megan and Laura found it more challenging although they got round their courses.

Sunday was a long distance event and the girls both had 1:15000 maps which proved to be extremely challenging for both Megan and Laura. I set off well but became over confident and then made a big mistake and struggled to re-locate. I took the next control well but then had a long leg with no obvious attack point and was really unsure how to tackle the leg! I got there with a lot of hesitancy, self doubt and checking whatever features could be found. I found the mapping vague and features that would be mapped in the UK didn't seem to be mapped over there. Despite the errors and slow approach I was still 18th out of 29 so felt reassured that despite my incompetency I had beaten a number of Swedes. Perhaps I will have to go back and give it another go!

We were blessed with glorious weather all weekend, a great party, wonderful food and had a great 'not the White Rose' weekend. But we will be back in Yorkshire in 2018!

Porto City Race Weekend – 22 to 24 September 2017

Four intrepid wrinklies travelled for a weekend of fun in Porto. Guy and Jean give their accounts of the weekend!

Guy Goodair

First race on the Friday was a night event in the City Park with a mass start at 9pm. Far too late a few finished after 11.30pm!! It must have taken far more manpower than a normal punching start – it took 3 or 4 people all afternoon to mark out starting tapes then put individual maps with your start number on the back then sellotape the map to the retaining string. I dislike night events because my night vision is poor. After the first butterfly loop I went from 5 to 9 instead of 6 (having the map upside down – why, oh why don't they sort the 6 & 9 problem out?)

Going to 6 over the 20" narrow plank at the lake panicked me – runners' headlamps coming the other way dazzled me and I was frightened of being knocked off (as happened to one competitor). Coming back to 8 I ignored the plans and took the safe way due east. Approaching No 15 near the finish they announced the first women's vet was finishing and I was only 3/5 the way round. Made a real mess of the second butterfly – over-running 17, getting to 19 before 18 getting to 21 before 20. A night best forgotten.

The Saturday race was a sprint centred on the town's main swimming pool (beats anything we've got round here). After a few controls we'd to cross a very busy dual carriageway road but no problems – two policemen stopping traffic in both lanes when they saw an approaching runner. Some good hills in the last section with route choice on most legs.

The main Sunday race was certainly the most physical I've ever done. Described by one international as "Brutal" it certainly was that – my course for old gits was 27 controls, 200m of climb and 7.6km optimum route (and I didn't do that – I went completely off the map for several minutes.) Some fiendish route choices on most legs, dozens of steps to negotiate, a double sided map larger than A3, spectacular views (if you'd time to stop and stare) and the sun beating down made this an unforgettable event. On reflection all the EPOC contingent made some bad route choices at some time in the race but it was still a brilliant weekend.

Four go to Porto

Jean Lochhead

In search of sun, which was in short supply in Porto as well as over here but a bit warmer, Four Epcies went to compete in three events. Guy, Jackie, Judith, and Jean.

Night Event

The first event was a night event, and just to make sure it was really dark it started at 9.00pm. After travelling it meant we did not get to bed until 12.30am.

The municipal park was lovely and run-able with two butterfly loops. It had an exciting lake crossing, which consisted of a 30cm wide concrete slabs covered by long grass and vegetation and each step involved a lot of grope with a tentative foot.

Working on the Tortoise v Hare theory Jean walked the whole event, following a compass bearing every inch of the way and hit most of the 26 controls straight on, coming 3rd. She thought it nice to see a podium again but was pleased not to finish first due to the fact she would not be able to reach the top step, yet. Guy was 10th, Judith 5th and Jackie needs a better torch.

3rd place prize consisted of a medal, bottle of port, tin of sardines, bar of soap and a bottle of olive oil, all Porto specialities.

Sprint Event

It was straightforward for those of us used to Urban events. Lots of cobbled streets. Guy and Judith were both 4th, Jean was 5th and Jackie was 6th losing out to Jean by 2 secs "that's last time I help you on with your sox".

City Race

We knew it would be hilly but the planner made full use of the brown lines. The event was held at Gaia, which is across the river Duoro from Porto. We started at a Barracks and the 15-minute call up involved a marked route through the Regimental Museum to the start down on the Metro line. (They do things differently here). Guy's route crossed the Duoro back into Porto for more hills but the three girls stayed in Gaia to enjoy a series of 25/30% hills, not once but twice. The planning was outstanding, one could not avoid pain and there was much pondering of the brown lines. The cobbled, vertical ginnels were magic until you met a car!

We eventually returned via the barracks for the last 5 controls. I am sure I had done at least the height of Coniston Old Man.

As usual the Portuguese organisation was flawless although for us foreigners more details of how to get public transport to the events would have been useful but it worked out OK. It is always reassuring to see another Orienteer on the bus/metro/train.

We paid 5 euros for each event a total of 15 euros for three events, which included a free tee shirt, and a bag of weird crisps. Amazing value for money and a really good 3 days.
