

Greenhead Park Instructions

A permanent Orienteering course has been developed in the park to give you the chance to try a non-competitive or leisure form of orienteering using your map reading skills to navigate around a course of markers known as 'controls'.

There are four courses in the park. A and B, the short courses, are wheel chair friendly. C is longer and D takes in all the controls and the grid for the code numbers is set out on the map.

The scale of the map is 1:2500 which means that one centimetre on the map represents 25m on the ground, so you do not have to go far between the controls

Purple Circles  with accompanying letters are marked on the map. These circles represent the controls and the letter is part of the code for that control. Each control has its own description as seen above.

The purple triangle and circle  combined marked on the map indicate the start and finish of the courses.

The start/finish plaque is orange/white and is attached to the building opposite the tennis courts.

The other controls are orange/white plastic markers with letters and a number on each of them.

Your challenge is to visit the controls of your chosen course in the correct order, writing down the code numbers in the corresponding square on your map. When you have finished your course, check you have been to the correct controls by adding up the code numbers and comparing your answer with the total on the map.

We hope you have enjoyed your taste of orienteering – it can be as leisurely or as strenuous as you want to make it. If you would like to try more orienteering, please visit the East Pennine Orienteering Club website at www.eastpennineoc.org.uk

Maps for this permanent orienteering course can also be downloaded at the EPOC website in the 'Permanent Courses' area.

If you find any missing or damaged controls when you are doing your course, please could you inform East Pennine Orienteering Club so that remedial action can be taken to renew or repair the controls. The club can be contacted via email: eastpennineorienteeringclub@gmail.com
